

A map is never complete!

Completeness is a relative idea.

Why is completeness research important?

- Identify areas to focus editing
- Understand health of mapping community